

DWDW Canada

In recognition of World Right to Die Day on November 2nd, we are hosting our very first national livestream event. The in-person event will take place in Toronto, but our supporters (potentially hundreds!) from coast-to-coast can also tune in to watch. This is a first for DWDC, and the only livestreamed event taking place on World Right to Die Day. The event will feature comments from Shanaaz Gokool as well as:

Kelly Doctor- lawyer who represented Dying With Dignity Canada in Carter v. Canada and in the recent legal challenge supporting the College of Physician and Surgeon's policy on effective referral.

Sean Griffin – lawyer who will represent Dying With Dignity Canada in the Quebec constitutional challenge to the federal and Quebec assisted dying laws.

Full details can be found on the DWDC website:

If you are in the Toronto-area and would like to come, please let us know. We've placed a hold on a number of seats for our stakeholder groups. We encourage you to invite your friends as well; just let us know as soon as you can so we can reserve seats for them as well.

Here are the details:

Date: November 2, 2017

Time: 6:30pm - 8pm (join us for refreshments starting at 6:00)

Venue: First Canadian Place

Address: 100 King St W, Toronto

If you are outside the GTA and would like to tune in, we'll be providing the live stream link closer to the date.
