

Live-Streaming NuTech Conference – Toronto Oct 28th

The 2017 NuTech conference to be held in Toronto is in the final stages of planning.

To increase potential audience participation, and to embrace new technologies!, Exit will Live-Stream the proceedings. Some discussions will be open - to anyone who wants to login, other discussions will be restricted to those who have a specific interest or knowledge of the topic under consideration.

Decisions about free or restricted access will largely be determined by those speakers presenting.

Guest presentations by

- Julijonas Urbonas <<http://julijonasurbonas.lt/>> from Lithuania who designed the euthanasia roller coaster, and by
- Francine Coeytaux <https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Francine\_Coeytaux> a US activist from the Plan-C DIY abortion network.

will be open.

Those attending - virtually - will be able to text in any questions to the speakers. Live-streaming also means the proceedings will be recorded and available for later viewing on request.

To facilitate live-streaming Exit has engaged the services of a professional media organisation and the day's proceedings will now take place in their Toronto studio. Numbers will be strictly limited though. All those who have already indicated that they wish to attend have places reserved, but there are very few available places left.

However, if you wish to participate and join the proceedings on-line, let us know by contacting <nutech@protonmail.com>

A tentative draft program will be circulated this week
